

Trip Report: Awesome Walls Climbing Wall, Liverpool

Date: 21st November 2005

Group: Arrowsmiths (including Chris, son of), Jim G, Jean, Colin, Tony, Chris Green

Route: Shropshire Way, Port Way, Pole Bank, Adstone Hill

Learning to Climb for Dummies

Higher and higher she climbed
Couldn't get an inch further
Lower and lower she descended
Her legs all of a dither

Abseiling the wall was so easy
Or so the inexperienced thought
She hadn't bargained for her partner
Weighing little or not much of nought.

Up, up and up went the belaying partner
Much too near the wall
Down, down, and down came the climber
'Oops, its ever too easy to fall!'

'Don't fear I've got you', cried Lesley
Her face now a strong shade of red
'Oh no you haven't', cried Jean,
(I knew I should have stayed in bed')

Hysteria is not really an option
When faced with the prospect of death.
However they made it look easy
Or so they told Sam in The Dysarth!

The climbing wall experience is one I hope the BUMS will repeat and for those who missed it, it comes highly recommended by complete novices and numpties!
